C-guide is a project designed and developed by Fundación Arquitectura Contemporánea in partnership with the Grupo Cosentino.

This collective effort will create a useful tool for exploring the complex contemporary architecture landscape and recognising works of interest that have been built around the world since 1979.

C-guide proposes to connect the digital environment with the reality of our cities through a web platform and mobile app, encouraging visits to the buildings and bringing their interpretation closer to audiences outside academia.

The guide will be expanded in phases, to include a new city each time and continually including new projects.
